A World Without Gray – Episode 1

15 Votes

The 1st of my weekly radio shows is officially archived, and free to all.

My special guest: Freeman Burt from Colorado.

Burt’s website: www.onlyfreemen.com

Join me as we take a stroll through the legal language in a way you’ve never comprehended before. Burt’s recent research projects have revealed the startling conclusion that the 2nd Amendment and natural right to bear “arms” remains strong and untainted, but our willingness to call them legal “firearms” makes them able to be regulated and indeed eventually confiscated by government. It is the clasic battle between lawful vs legal. And it is this voluntary acceptance of Federal contract (license) that puts your lawful guns (arms) at risk as legal “firearms”, and nothing else. Be a man, carry an arm!

We also discuss the fact that when the legal codes are examined, marijuana (i.e. cannabis) is not illegal. In simple terms, a plant alone cannot be a “controlled substance”, nor can it even be a “substance”. However, as with “arms”, we find that every person in jail for marijuana charges is there voluntarily – because they agree that their pot is a substance, not by fact, but by consent to fraud. The prison labor force is full of pot smokers who’ve committed no verifiable crime yet have accepted the government offer of imprisonment for their non-crime. In fact, would it surprise you to learn that federal law states that you may grow up to 100 marijuana plants??? Tune in and shed the fallacies and outright lies of fear and intimidation that is government’s fraudulent U.S. CODE...

Outstanding job, Clint! We very much enjoyed your premiere and, as always, learned much from your content. The sound quality and absence of commercials is a big plus. We’re looking very forward to your continued broadcasts.

3 to 4 minutes of nonsense leading in is not necessary.

the 3-4 minutes of clips leading into the show are outstanding, in my opinion. they are very well done!

Please exercise some forbearance, Big M as this is Clint's first foray into broadcast radio. We all experiment and refine our deliveries over time. The information and messages offered in this excellent premiere far outweigh any perceived technical issues and, rather than throwing the baby out with the bath water, one should focus on his excellent content. Brings an old saying to mind, "Chew up the meat and spit out the bones."

This represents Clint Richardson’s first foray into broadcast radio and he assembled a top-shelf program. It’s one that everyone should listen to and take notes since the information is rare and extremely important.

Hi Clint, I learn a lot from your deep research and take it where it leads no matter what investigation technique. Thank you for all your hard work to educate, inform and facilitate the great change needed.

If it is not too much trouble if you could link some of your sources/docs etc., like you did in your excellent Bloodline expose, it would be helpful for some to further research the material and pass on to others.

Thanx again, you’re not only in this great struggle.

J Lee.

For the benefit of my guest, who has spent many hours compiling this information and all sources, I would refer you to his website:

<http://onlyfreemen.wordpress.com/>

There you can download the document with all information you would need, which is set up so that anyone could use it in a case at law. It’s quite inexpensive, considering its contents.

Any other info I can provide (I don’t sell anything) just let me know specifcily

Thanks...

-Clint-
